AND

A conman is continuing to prey on often vulnerable victims to feed his drug habit despite being placed under an Anti Social Behaviour Order. Darren Bingham is a notorious beggar targeting households in Hanworth, Brentford, Hounslow and Isleworth, where he invents stories about needing money to help sick relatives. He was given a five-year antisocial behaviour order in May 2012, banning him from knocking on doors or begging in a public place. Recent sightings in Hounslow suggest that Bingham may be continuing to target vulnerable people across the Borough. The terms of his ASBO state that he must not knock at the door of any person not known to him or attempt to beg in any public place.

Contacting the Police Has Changed

From Monday 2nd September, the way that you can contact your local police is changing. Following the public consultation by the Mayor's Office for Policing and Crime that took place earlier this year, Hounslow Police are now ready to launch their new public access plan. This plan is part of the Local Policing Model, the Met's commitment to get more police officers onto the streets of Hounslow, working later into the evening, to reduce crime and anti-social behaviour. You will have seen press reports talking about the £500 million that the Met has to save over the next few years. This is not about fewer officers - Hounslow have bolstered their neighbourhood teams by over 50 staff in the last year. Closing down and selling some of the Met's buildings has allowed these savings to be made whilst increasing the number of cops on the streets.

Are some police stations being sold?

Yes, but only one. Brentford Police Station will close its doors for the last time on Sunday 1st September and will be put up for sale. It just wasn't being used enough to justify staying open. With only a handful of people using the facility each day, it makes more sense to get those officers back out on patrol and make more flexible use of police stations and public access points around the Borough. The current front counter service at Feltham Police Station is also closing and the Chiswick front counter service will reduce its opening hours. Feltham and Chiswick Police Stations remain as patrol bases so there will still be officers responding to calls based at these stations. Hounslow Police Station front counter remains open 24hrs a day every day of the week; this is in line with the other 31 boroughs all of which will have one police station with 24 hour access with a number of other public access points.

Where can I go to speak to the Met?

From Monday 2nd September, there will be a number of locations around the Borough where you can speak to police:

Police Stations

- 1 Hounslow Police Station - open 24hrs a day, every day of the year
- 2 Chiswick Police Station - open Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm

plus 3 Public Access Points

Hounslow Neighbourhood Policing Teams hold regular street briefings around the borough each week, to speak to local people about their concerns and offer crime prevention advice. Details can be found via:
