BEING A VOLUNTEER GUIDE AT OSTERLEY

Osterley House is increasingly popular with visitors, and this means that there is an urgent need to grow their thriving team of volunteer Guides. Guides help the National Trust to share the stories of Osterley House with the public – chatting to visitors in rooms or leading tours. Osterley's stories are varied and range from Queen Elizabeth I to the Great Fire of London, the East India Company to Georgian society's biggest scandal, as well as 1940s Hollywood and World War II. Guides don't have to be experts – help with the information needed will be given – but there are huge opportunities to learn, pursue interests or develop new ones for those who wish to, attending as often as suits them.

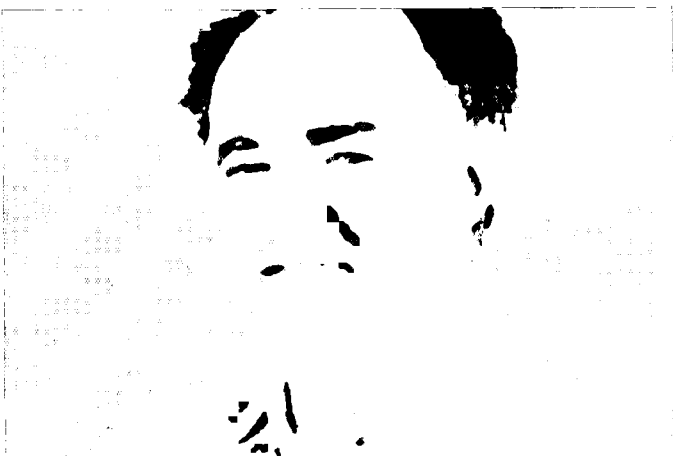

Volunteer Guiding particularly suits people who have recently ceased regular working hours or simply have spare time. Also, those who want to find ways to remain active, engage with others as part of a large community of volunteers, and use their time productively. To help spread the word, they are offering you the following options during June:

- Opportunities to visit as a group or individual and look around with experienced guides
- Arranging for them to visit a group to talk about Osterley and Guiding, and answer any questions.

To arrange any of the above, or discuss further, please don't hesitate to contact ffion.george@nationaltrust.org.uk, or telephone 020 8232 5065.

Former Councillor Peter Carey Dies

Hounslow Council has expressed its condolences to the family and friends of former Councillor Peter Carey who died on 31st May following a period of poor health.

As a Councillor, Peter served for two terms on the Council, first during the Conservative administration of 1968 to 1971, and more recently from 1986 to now. This means that he was the only Hounslow Councillor to have served in every decade from the 1960s onwards.

The ward he represented was initially called Spring Grove, but has more recently been called Osterley and Spring Grove ward. Mr Carey stepped down prior to the Local Elections in May of this year. The borough flag at the Civic Centre flew at half-mast over the weekend as a mark of respect.

Council Leader, Steve Curran said; "Peter Carey was a highly respected Member for many years. He specialised in the Council's scrutiny arrangements and was Chair of the Overview and Scrutiny Committee from 2006 to 2010, and a committed member of the scrutiny process thereafter.

"He served on the Council's Licensing Committee, Governor Appointments Panel, and Assessment and Appeals Joint Group, and outside bodies including the Watermans Arts Centre, the Heathrow Airport Consultative Committee and the Department of Trade and Industry's Investigation of Air Pollution Standing Conference. Councillor Carey was made a Freeman of the Borough in 2008.

"On behalf of the whole Council I would like to express my appreciation for his public service, and my condolences to his family and friends."

Arrests For Drugs Supply

Hounslow Police arrested two men in connection with the supply of Class A drugs in Thornbury Playing Fields, Isleworth on 31 May.

Police used plain clothes officers as part of the operation to target drug runners who were believed to be using push bikes to sell drugs.

Several wraps of crack cocaine were seized from one of the men, who was arrested for possession with the intent to supply. The second individual was arrested for breach of a court order and possession of Class B drugs.

Police have attributed the arrests to vigilant residents who raised the alarm by reporting that they believed drugs were being used and sold in the park.

Councillor Katherine Dunne, Cabinet Member for Communities and Workforce, Hounslow Council said: "This is a great result and fine example of how the Council, the Police and residents join forces to make Hounslow a safer place to live and work.

"We thank the vigilant residents who took the time to report criminal behaviour in Thornbury Playing Fields: our exemplary Police force in Hounslow who work tirelessly to improve our borough and keep people safe."

Superintendent Ricky Kandohla – Head of Neighbourhood Policing West Area BCU, said:

"This demonstrates good joint working between police and local partners, supporting the campaign to ensure that our parks are free for use by our local community and not for those that are involved in criminal activity. We will continue to patrol the park and local area to disrupt and deter criminal behaviour. Please continue to report criminal activity to us and we appreciate the ongoing support of the local community."
